BACKGROUND:

Shenzhen, next to Hong Kong, is a special economic zone in the Peoples Republic of China with many high technology companies and many development and sales offices of foreign companies. Many sites of interest are near the conference hotel.

Like the European IBIS Summit, our objective is to reach out internationally to communicate with the local experts and to learn of regional concerns.

CONFERENCE LANGUAGE:

The conference language is English, but we will plan for technical translation as needed in a manner to be determined. So presenters can optionally deliver in Chinese as long as an English version of the material is available.

IBIS SUMMIT

This meeting will be conducted as a formal IBIS Summit Meeting. Presentations will be archived in an electronic format on our Summits site, and minutes of the meeting will be issued. However, no formal decisions requiring votes will be planned.
